

RADFORD UNIVERSITY

Introducing Radford University's Provisional to Professional Pathway - A Virtual Learning Academy for Teachers

- Complete Virginia Department of Education (VDOE) professional studies licensure requirements in one year.
- Engage in online, self-paced coursework delivered in a competency-based format.
- Access resources to ensure your success in the classroom.
- Tailor courses to meet your needs as an early career provisionally licensed teacher.
- Transfer graduate-level coursework credits to Radford University's Master of Education program.

Choose your own pace

Our online, self-paced courses allow you to progress through the professional studies coursework required by the Virginia Department of Education (VDOE) on your own time and at your own pace. Progressing one course at a time, all professional studies coursework is designed to be completed in as little as one year. You choose the pace that works for you. You will be supported every step of the way with your own personal Learning Coach.

Grow your teaching competence with feedback from Radford faculty

Radford University is a leader in competency-based education designed to help working professionals advance working in their careers. In this program, you will advance through graduate-level courses as you demonstrate competency in your own classroom and as you work through expertly designed modules with engaging videos,

Continued on back

Courses are aligned with professional studies licensure requirements for all endorsement areas and include:

- EDEF 600: Child and Adolescent Development
- EDEF 607: Foundations of Education
- EDUC 562: Classroom and Behavior Management
- EDUC 615: Curriculum and Instructional Procedures
- EDUC 603: Evaluation of Student Learning
- EDRD 688: Foundations of Literacy
- EDRD 641: Assessment and Intervention in Language Development
- EDRD 630: Teaching Reading in the Content Areas

interactive activities, and texts. You will have access to Radford University faculty who have decades of teaching experience to guide you.

Access a library of resources and tools for success

In addition to courses, you will also have access to a rich library of resources specifically designed to assist you as you launch your new career. Learn from current principals and current teachers in webinars about everything from planning your first parent-teacher conference to structuring a successful class discussion and more.

Transfer credits into a master's degree

Each three credit-hour course may be transferrable into Radford University's Master of Education program. The master's degree program deepens your knowledge and skills as you become more expert and may have salary benefits as well. You do not need to take the Praxis prior to enrolling.

This program will be available starting fall 2023!

Fee

Reduced rate of $361 per credit hour for provisionally licensed teachers.